PREFACE

This publication is a result of research largely drawn from Journals of the Louisiana House of Representatives and Annual Reports of the Louisiana Secretary of State. Other information was obtained from the book, A Look at Louisiana's First Century: 1804-1903, by Leroy Willie, and used with the author's permission.

Early research reveals that the term county is interchanged with parish in many sources until 1815. In 1805 the Territory of Orleans was divided into counties. By 1807 an act was passed that divided the Orleans Territory into parishes as well. The counties were not abolished by the act. Both terms were used at the same time until 1845, when a new constitution was adopted and the term "parish" was used as the official political subdivision.

The legislature was elected every two years until 1880, when a sitting legislature was elected every four years thereafter (see chart at the end of this document).

The War of 1812 started in June of 1812 and continued until a peace treaty in December of 1814. No legislature met in 1813. The historic Battle of New Orleans was fought in January of 1815, preventing a legislature from meeting in that year as well. During the Civil War there were two elected legislatures meeting simultaneously.

In 1877 the Republican and Democratic parties convened two separate legislatures in New Orleans. The Republican legislature lost strength as a result of President Ulysses S. Grant refusing to send military forces to support the Republican legislature. In disappointment, many Republicans either changed party or simply decided to attend the Democratic legislature. Newly inaugurated president, Rutherford B. Hayes, withdrew all federal troops from Louisiana in April of 1877. This was the beginning of the end of the Reconstruction Era in Louisiana.

Membership lists for 1877 are based on the Journal for the 1877 Extraordinary Session. Information for the Regular Session is not available. Either the Journal was not published for that legislative session, or it has become a rare publication that cannot be found.

Members of the Orleans Parish delegation are listed by district number as well as political party from 1884 to 1916.

This is a work in progress. As more information is found it is entered or corrected. Journals list the election and oath of office taken by legislators on the first day of a legislative session, in most cases. However, one must read the entire Journal proceedings for each session to learn of the death, resignation, election challenges, and unseating of members. This has not yet been done for all the years listed. The period from 1861 (Civil War) until 1880 (through Reconstruction) is especially difficult to research and remains incomplete at this time.

Additional information from the Louisiana public on the legislative membership is encouraged and invited by writing to:

<sup>5</sup>One of the 12 counties created in 1807 when the Orleans Territory was split. (In 1807 the territorial legislature passed an act dividing Orleans Territory into 19 parishes, but did not abolish the original 12 counties.) In 1811 Attakapa County was divided into St. Martin and St. Mary Parishes. In some cases, both county and parish names were used beyond 1811.

<sup>46</sup>Opelousas is one of the 12 original counties created in 1807. By 1807 there were parishes created from the counties, and both terms (counties and parishes) were used at the same time. Until 1845, Louisiana used the term county in many of its acts, but after that date, when a new constitution was adopted, Louisiana used "parishes" exclusively to designate political subdivisions. Opelousas is the name of a town now.

<sup>48</sup>Orleans was one of the original 12 counties created in 1807 from the Orleans Territory. In 1807, parishes were created from the counties, and the City of New Orleans was a parish within the county of Orleans. In 1845 the term "county" was dropped and the term Orleans Parish was most commonly used. In early 1800s research, Orleans Territory, county, and New Orleans City are often listed all together as one entry.

<sup>82</sup> From territorial times, Louisiana was divided into counties. In 1807 the Orleans Territory was divided into 19 parishes, but they did not abolish the 12 original counties. From the original 19 parishes, there were another 37 parishes created. Some counties lost their names entirely when they were split and more than one new parish was established. In the early publications before 1880, it is difficult to tell if the writers refer to counties or parishes.
